CHOOSE TO BE KIND

by WADE J. ZETTERBERG

On delivery today, I heard an older song that I hadn't heard in a while. Nick Lowe's 'Cruel To Be Kind'. Admittedly, I don't get the song's concept. Cruel to be kind? How does that even work? I brushed up on the lyrics and STILL fell short of understanding what he was getting at. I'd just as soon leave out the cruel part, thank you very much. Still, it's a catchy tune, I suppose. But it really got me thinking about being kind.

As the dust from the pandemic seems to be settling, we're getting out more and more...which is a good thing. With it though are sure to be challenges that test our patience and ability to be kind to one another. Traffic, wait times at restaurants, and inevitable disagreements over the use of masks will undoubtedly cause conflict amongst those trying to regain some semblance of their old lives. It's in these times we must remember to be kind. We simply must.

Are the words ready to leave your mouth the same words you'd want to hear directed at you?

That's always something to consider. The OTHER person. Are they really looking to cause you strife, or are they just trying to get through their day like you? Ninety-nine times out of a hundred, the issue is not personal, I assure you. So, choose kindness. Above all, choose to be kind.

A friend recently said, "If you have to choose to either be right or kind, choose to be kind...and you'll always be right". I don't know if she came up with that, or if she heard it, but it doesn't matter to me. The message was powerful, and I'm going to hold on to it.

So, please...

When you're out and about, be patient with everyone. With more and more places opening up, expect longer lines and more people. Know that your smile and kind words will smooth over the rough edges of a potentially drama-filled situation. Tip generously. Hold open a door for a stranger. Just make the very conscious choice to choose kindness over the ugly alternative.

At the end of the day, we're all just trying to make it through to the next phase, amirite?

Let's work together to make it as pleasant as possible.

Matthew 7:12 "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you"

1 Corinthians 16:14 "Let all that you do, be done in love"

Have a wonderfully KIND and safe Fourth of July!

CUSTOMER REVIEWS

This place is the CUTEST! I want to come back and try every sandwich on the menu. The Homestead Stack was fantastic! The bread was the perfect crispness while still being soft, the cheese was warm and melty, there was turkey, ham and salami on it plus a good amount of thousand island dressing. The sauce added the perfect tang! I can't wait to come back!! - Gabby M.

I do not write reviews often but The Homestead was that good! Quality is the word that comes to mind when I think of this place. The staff were very polite, the atmosphere was perfect, and the food was great. I highly recommend you try Homestead if you are in the area! - Ethan V.
